NKDA COMMUNITY CENTRE

Newtown,
Kolkata

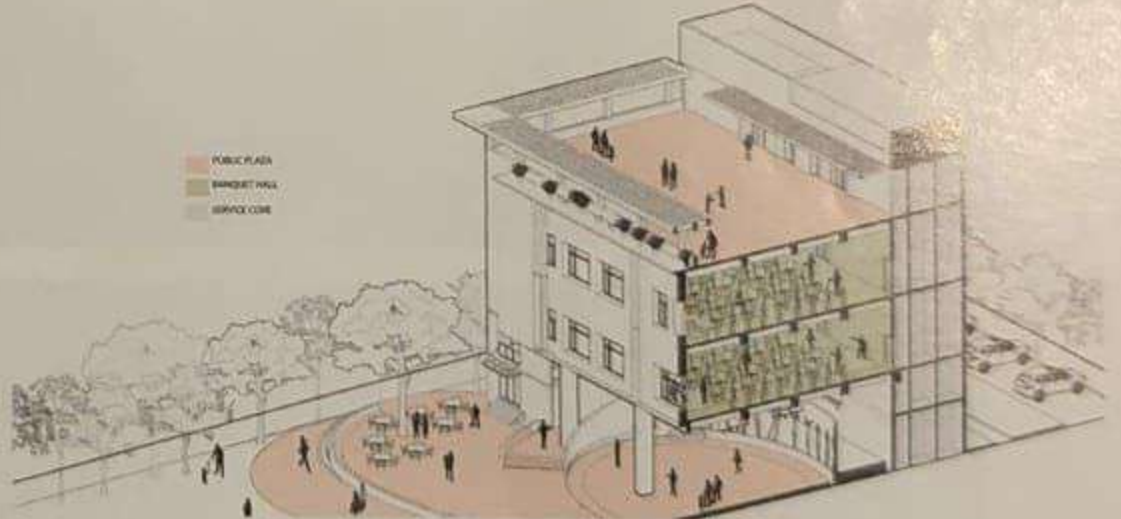

Situated in Newtown, the site is surrounded by roads on three sides. The building is positioned on the site in such a way that it can be viewed in its entirety from the adjacent road. Emphasis has been given to the use of interactive open spaces, articulated through traditional elements. The building program comprises a banquet hall, guest residence, a rooftop plaza, and a multipurpose gathering space. The idea was to bring the essence of urban space into contemporary architecture while linking the roots of tradition to modernism.

Project Name	: Newtown Development Authority, Kolkata Community Centre
Project Type	: Architecture-Institutional
Location	: Newtown, Kolkata, West Bengal
Area	: 30,000 sqft.
Year	: 2021
Design Firm	: Ayan Sen Architects Urban Designers & Planners (ASAUDP)
Principal Designer	: Ayan Sen

Focus has been given to the depiction of local art through painted louvers and terracotta walls. The curved terracotta wall is making the intangible space tangible through its introverted design. The oval building forms the support facility which includes a cafeteria and a play area. The curved wall breaks the monotony of the rectilinear grid and creates an organic design merging with the landscape.
